The Delhi Development Authority has played a remarkable role in reshaping the infrastructure of Delhi since its inception in 1957 while preserving the cultural heritage. Despite facing challenges such as demographic shifts and unplanned, DDA has remained dedicated to all-round and environmentally sustainable development of the National Capital.

The 67th Sansthapana Diwas is an occasion to recall DDA's tireless efforts and the commitment of its employees to make Delhi a better, safer, and happier place, as also an opportunity to reiterate its commitment to the future developments of the city.

I extend my congratulations to DDA on the initiative to mark this momentous occasion by publishing this souvenir.

I extend my best wishes to all DDA employees for their ongoing and future endeavours. Your zeal, passion, and commitment should be towards shaping Delhi. May you continue to contribute to the city's growth and transformation.
