MESSAGE

I am happy to know that Delhi Technological University (DTU) is celebrating 85 years of existence and is bringing out a special publication to mark the occasion. Commemorating this 85-year milestone provides a meaningful opportunity to reflect on past achievements while anticipating a bright, impactful future.

Some institutions become an integral part of a city's history not merely through their milestones, but through the generations that flourish within them. DTU - earlier known as Delhi College of Engineering (DCE) is one such institution. Its remarkable journey has been shaped by countless students, dedicated faculty and distinguished alumni, each contributing to a legacy that continues to adapt and grow.

University life is a transformative passage for students. The knowledge gained, friendships forged and challenges overcome, endure far beyond campus life. These experiences have nurtured leaders and innovators who contribute with distinction across engineering, science, industry, entrepreneurship and public service.

I convey my best wishes to DTU, its students, faculty and alumni. May the University continue to reach new heights of excellence, strength and global stature while remaining steadfast to the values that have defined its legacy.
