The National Academy of Medical Sciences (NAMS) is an organization of acclaimed physicians, academicians, and researchers in the field of medical sciences since 1961. The Fellows of this academy are amongst the most distinguished medical professionals of the country, who have helped to develop high standards of patient care and medical training in various specialties over many decades.

The Academy fosters and utilizes the academic excellence of health professionals in the country as its resources to promote quality in medical education and skill development in the field of medicine and allied sciences.

I have been given to understand that the Academy has been advising the Government of India in several matters of National Health Policy. I am happy to learn that the National Academy of Medical Sciences encourages and sponsors nation-wide medical education programmes Symposia and Workshops in basic sciences and applied clinical disciplines. The Academy has done commendable work under the stewardship of Prof. S.K. Sarin, in the past two years. Having said that, it is my considered opinion that there is much left to be achieved in the field of public and private health in terms of patient care, services, basic and applied research as well of ethics. I sincerely hope that the Academy and its leaders will leave no stone unturned to achieve these.

On this 64th annual day celebrations of NAMS, I extend my best wishes and look forward to NAMS for its renewed cooperation in strengthening the health care policies of the country.
